A PREHISTORIC LEGEND.

BY PERTINAX.

Upon this plain, where rich Chicago stands And rears its palaces of human wealth.

The unbred savage ruled the virgin land, Hunted the deer, and waded the dusky maid.

His abodes were on the hillsides and the glades, That wandered on the hillsides and the glades.

A mighty people were the Illinois then;

Wauhakee was chief of fifty thousand men.

He reared his lodge down by the mighty lake,

Whose placid waters change not with the years.

The young man of his tribe he oft would take

And teach her how to ride their horses and fears.

And he loved glory, and the fame of his sake,

And won it in the days of his youth.

That he had led his tribe against the Sioux,

Surprised these wild foes, and whipped them, too.

Wauhakee, on many a field had shown his

Well, and well skilled in Indian ways.

To cunning march and then as boldly fight.

No one was like him in those early days,

Or in his manly, fearless, manly mien.

Or in his bearing, when he did command.

He was a Chief, the mightiest in the land,

Born to the purple, and bred to command.

He lived his time, and then, Wauhakee died,

The Cheiflet's grand, the wisest of his race.

His wife did grieve, his wife did weep,

And many a bitter woe wailed over him.

And a new Chief was chosen in his place.

The entire tribe was passed away from earth.

And left no record of its death or birth.

John C. Hanson, Secretary.

Wauhakee, on many a field had shown his

Well, and well skilled in Indian ways.

To cunning march and then as boldly fight.

No one was like him in those early days,

Or in his manly, fearless, manly mien.

LOCAL ITEMS.

Salling, Hanson & Co's. Price List.

(Corrected Weekly.)

They say our Fredericville correspondent is suffering from an attack of grand-pi-lon, but with favorable prospects for recovery.

Messrs. Aebl, Hastings, Rawlins and Willett, guardians of Crawford County's interests were in the city this week and made us a call.

Messrs. Wight, High, Higgins, Davenport and Dilley of Frederic Township were in the city on Tuesday and made us a lengthy and pleasant call.

Frazi Young who disappeared last summer in the Tamarack swamp with Deputy Sheriff Wild, a close second, was in the city on Tuesday.

Charlie O'Bear, who is acting as night operator at Bay City, and attending Commercial College, was in the city visiting friends, last week.

Mr. G. H. Hicks returned on Tuesday evening from her visit to her parents at Corunna. G. H. is himself again.

Mrs. C. W. Hall, of Beaver Creek Township, left on Monday night for Hillsdale County, where she was called by the sickness of her father.

Chris Haller, who has been major domo at the Grayling House for a long time, has severed his connection with it, and entered the employ of J. Maurice Flinn, to assist Sidney in his onerous duties.

Mr. A. M. Maxwell, of the Eating House, in Grayling, was in the city this week. He has been suffering severely from a sore eye, in which he had caught cold, but is now much better.

DIED.—On Friday morning, the 8th inst., at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. M. Conway, in Grayling, Mrs. Emily Smith, in the 66th year of her age. The funeral services occurred on the 10th inst., and Rev. G. M. Bigelow, preached the funeral sermon.

The Ducey lumber company of Muskegon, have just started a lumber camp on Sec. 32, T. 24-3, Roscommon County. James Lee is foreman. They plan to Michigan to live, and in 1877 she joined the Methodist church, and has ever since been a faithful worker for her Saviour. She has been a constant sufferer for the last four years of her life, and about seven weeks ago she came east to spend the remainder of her days with her parents. She died last week Tuesday, Dec. 22d, and the funeral was held on Thursday following, Rev. Mr. Stone, of Muine, officiating.

Protection against Fire.

MR. EDITOR.—Allow me through the only means we have of reaching the public, i.e. the Avalanche, to call attention to a matter which every citizen of our growing town will at once concede to be one of growing importance, and which cannot with prudence be longer postponed. I refer to the want of any and every kind of protection against the spread of fire. For a wooden back-woods town we are remarkably exempt, only four fires of

any magnitude having occurred. The old Grayling House four years ago, the two across the river and the photograph gallery, with three incipient blazes which were fortunately extinguished, viz, at the Eating House, Grayling Hospital and the School-house. Thus we see that five out of the six occurred within the past eighteen months. Probably very few of our citizens realize that we now have over 150 buildings in which fire is liable to occur at any time; and over 50 in any one of which should fire occur a large part of the business portion of the town would almost surely be involved. Yet such is the fact. Should a fire occur in any one of the business blocks fronting on Michigan Avenue, we might as well put our hands in our pockets and look quietly on while destruction went from one end of the square to the other, so far as we have any means of either extinguishing or limiting its spread.

E. Purchase will pay $25.00 to any one who will furnish him with positive evidence in regard to who is poisoning the dogs about the town. His dog has been poisoned and Shoppenhangers Cap. Neither of these dogs were vicious or dangerous and to poison them through mere wilfulness was shameful.

John N. Eble was arrested at West Bay City on complaint of Mrs. Isabel Zuhm for slander. John has rather a hard row to hoe between his wife and other women. If he must talk, he should confine his remarks to Mrs. Zuhm and he would not come in contact with the law, as he could not slander him.

There will be a Grand Ball at the Opera House, on Friday Evening, Jan. 15, under the auspices of the Roscommon Orchestra. A general invitation is extended to all.

The people of Black River remembered their minister, Rev. G. S. Weir, kindly at Christmas. His wife was presented with a fine clock and he personally with an upholstered rocker. Few places can compare with Black River for liberality in the support of church enterprises and for kindness towards ministers and their families.

If you want groceries, buy them at the grocery store; but if you want drugs buy them at a drug store. Dr. Traver has the most complete stock and largest assortment north of Bay City, and guarantees the quality, as first-class and strictly pure. Will at all times make prices as low as good goods can be sold for. And to lumbermen and large dealers will give a liberal discount.

The Del. Journal says: "There's an odiousness about crime at Grayling that is phenomenal. Del Swader, who tried to kill Robert Babbitt by beating his head into a jelly, was convicted and fined $40, with five days in jail." Not much jolly about it. It was only a small jar of jam and the prosecuting witness asked for a light sentence on account of the provocation. Still it was more severe than the amount that this would cost! Very likely we will."

GRUMBLER.

What's the first thing you would do if you were stung by a hornet?" asked Smith, who had been reading an article on stings.

"Swear," replied Jones, solemnly. And the conversation abruptly ceased.

If you want a comfortable house in a good location or two of the best vacant lots in town, or 80 acres of good land with some improvement, at half their real value, call at this office.

On last Monday Evening, John Gould, who has been working during the last year for John McDonald and R. S. Babbit, took an overdose of Morphine, inadvertently, to relieve a severe headache to which he was subject. It was not discovered that he had done so until the next morning, when Drs. Woodward and Traver were called in, who did everything in their power to relieve him, but without avail, and he died about one o'clock yesterday morning. We understand he has friends at Fowlerville, who have been informed of his death.

A Mr. Smith, treasurer of the township of Gladie, this county, is a defaulter to the tune of three thousand dollars, and has left for parts unknown. A warrant for his arrest is in the hands of an officer. —Callahanian

The jury in the inquest held on the body of J. G. Gould, report that he came to his death from an overdose of Morphine administered by himself, but not with suicidal intent.

A man known as "Scoty" shot four wolves out of a pack of seven, one day last week, which will probably not less than thirteen dollars each. The game was taken in the North Branch region, and the same party brought in seven scalps Monday of this week, leaving them with County Clerk, Adams, to await the bounty.—Index

The attention of our citizens is especially directed to a communication signed, Grumbler, regarding "protection against fire." It would be well, if some action was taken at once. It is rather late in the day to lock the stable after the horse is stolen. There seems to be as much apathy against taking any measures looking to protection against fire at present, as there is against protection against the consuming element in the hereafter.

We clip the following account of the death of Mrs. Nathan Barney, a former resident of Beaver Creek, from the News Union, published at Union, New York.

Died, at the residence of her father, Mr. Nicholas Westcott, Mrs. Nathan Barney, in the 36th year of her age. She leaves a husband and three children, Martha M., Burdell and Mary A., and a large circle of relatives to mourn her loss. In 1874 Mr. and Mrs. B. went to Michigan to live, and in 1877 she joined the Methodist church, and has ever since been a faithful worker for her Saviour. She has been a constant sufferer for the last four years of her life, and about seven weeks ago she came east to spend the remainder of her days with her parents. She died last week Tuesday, Dec. 22d, and the funeral was held on Thursday following, Rev. Mr. Stone, of Muine, officiating.

Entertaining sketches by Alice W. Rollins, Charles G. Leland, Henry Eckford, Lieutenant Schwatka, Edward Eggleston, and many others.

Poems, shorter contributions, and departments will complete what the Rural New Yorker calls "the best magazine for children in the world."

Subscriptions received at this office, and will be furnished to subscribers of the AVALANCHE at $2.50 per year.

Mr. EDITOR.—Allow me through the only means we have of reaching the public, i.e. the Avalanche, to call attention to a matter which every citizen of our growing town will at once concede to be one of growing importance, and which cannot with prudence be longer postponed. I refer to the want of any and every kind of protection against the spread of fire. For a wooden back-woods town we are remarkably exempt, only four fires of

the amount that this would cost! Very likely we will.

St Nicholas.

The St. Nicholas is an illustrated
monthly periodical for boys and girls,
appearing on the 25th of each month.
It is edited by Mary Mapes Dodge, and the price is 25 cents a number, or $3.00 a year in advance. Booksellers, newsdealers, postmasters and publishers
take subscriptions which should commence with the November number, the first of the volume.

St. Nicholas aims both to satisfy and develop the tastes of its constituency;
and its record for the past twelve years, during which it has always stood, as it stands to day, at the head of periodicals for boys and girls, is a sufficient warrant for its excellence during the present season. It will contain short stories by scores of prominent writers, including Susan Coolidge, H. H. Boyesen, Nora Perry, T.
A. Janvier, Washington Gladden, Rossiter Johnson, Joaquin Miller, Sophie
May, Hezekiah Butterworth, W. O.
Stoddard, Harriet Prescott Spofford,
and many others.

Entertaining sketches by Alice W.
Rollins, Charles G. Leland, Henry Eckford, Lieutenant Schwatka, Edward Eggleston, and many others.

Poems, shorter contributions, and departments will complete what the Rural New Yorker calls "the best mag-

NEWS CONDENSED.

Concise Record of the Week.

FOURTY-NINTH CONGRESS.

CONGRESS reconvened after the holiday adjournment, on Tuesday, Jan. 5, and at once voted to appropriate $1,000,000 for the construction of a new building in the Senate, the apartments of John B. Durbin of Virginia, were presented to both houses, and a bill was introduced in both houses in the Senate to ratify the Ninth Territorial Assembly of Wyoming. Bills were introduced to provide for silver dollars for the coinage; to increase currency in reserve funds of the Treasury; to increase pensions of the disabled; to facilitate provisions in the army to allow the same to be used under the quarter-hour law; to provide for the collection of moneys in Washington to Abram Lincoln; S. G. Grimes of Iowa, in his 49th district of Columbia by a grant of $500,000; to establish a national bank; and a bill to increase the interest to $500,000 for the collection of the money due to the government.

Mr. Louis Schaefer, of Canton, Ohio, has again called the attention of Congress to the case of the venerable Mrs. Merletham, the only living grandchild of Thomas Jefferson. He attempted to raise a fund for her in 1881 by appealing to some hundreds of prominent people and secured $70.

SOUTHERN.

R. T. Cooney, of the mayor of war, Manhattan, living on City Point, Va., gave away his watch and diamond ring and then committed suicide by opening an artery in his wrist.

The saloon-keepers of Chattanooga, Tenn., smarting under the rigid enforcement of the Sunday law, have taken out warrants for nearly one hundred street-car officials, liverymen, and newspaper publishers.

William M. Price, who was charged with the authorship of the Money letter, was admitted to the bar in Maryland, it having been conclusively shown that he was innocent of the charge.

A panther which for six weeks had alarmed the citizens of Clayton, Ga., attacked and overcame George Greenleaf, who was walking up a hill with his wife. The latter cut the beast's throat.

Washington telegram: "An office seeker who had been here for many weeks returned home not long since without presenting his case to the President. He had a very good reason for this strange procedure. He had a very valuable ring, so he said, which he intended to wear when he called on the President. Soon after his arrival he lost the ring, and, fearing that his case would be hopeless unless the President saw the ring on his finger, he gave up in despair and left for home."

Painter, Tongus & Co., wholesale dry goods and notions at Baltimore, failed with heavy liabilities.

WASHINGTON.

A member of the Chilian Legion has gained notice in Washington by indulging in an old-fashioned drunk. After receiving a sound thrashing from a plain republican citizen he was sufficiently humbled off to his quarters.

The total amount of the national debt Jan. 1 was $1,83,713,715. The debt less cash in the Treasury, was $1,452,541,700, there being $494,361,354 on hand, shown by the Treasurer's general account. The debt following is a recapitulation of the monthly statement:
